1. Al-Jami'ah : Journal Islamic Studies

Description

Al-Jamiah: Journal of Islamic Studies, published by Al-Jami'ah Research Centre of Sunan Kalijaga State Islamic University Yogyakarta since 1962, can be said as the oldest academic journal dealing with the theme in South East Asia.

The subject covers textual and fieldwork studies with various perspectives of law, philosophy, mysticism, history, art, theology, and many more. In the beginning the journal only served as a scholarly forum for the lecturers and professors at the State Institute of Islamic Studies. However, due to the later development with a broader readership, the journal has successfully invited scholars and researchers outside the Institute to contribute.

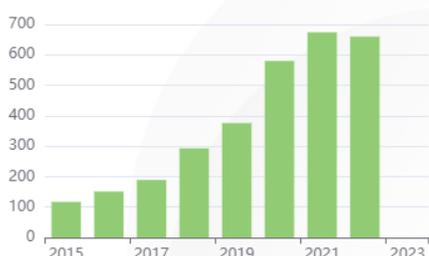

Thus, Indonesian and non-Indonesian scholars have enriched the studies published in the journal. Although not from the beginning Al-Jamiah presents highly qualified scholarly articles, improvement—in terms format, style, and academic quality—never ceases. Now with articles written in Arabic and English and with the fair procedure of peer-review, Al-Jamiah continues publishing researches and studies pertinent to Islamic studies with various dimensions and approaches.

Al-Jami'ah, published twice a year, always places Islam and Muslim in the central focus of academic inquiry and invites any comprehensive observation of Islam as a theological belief and a system of society and Muslims as those who practice the religion with their many facets. This journal, serving as a forum for the study of Islam in Indonesia and other parts of the world within its local and challenging global context, supports focused studies of particular theme and interdisciplinary studies. Al-Jamiah has become a medium of diffusion and exchange of ideas and research findings, so much so that researchers, writers, and readers from various traditions of learning have interacted in the scholarly manner.

2. Musawa: Jurnal Studi Gender dan Islam

Description

Musāwa Journal of Gender and Islamic Studies was first published in March 2002 by PSW (Pusat Studi Wanita) Sunan Kalijaga Yogyakarta under contribution with the Royal Danish Embassy Jakarta. In 2008, published twice a year in collaboration with TAF (The Asia Foundation), namely January and July.

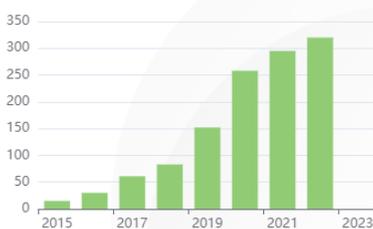

Musāwa Journal is a study of gender and Islam especially on gender mainstreaming and child rights both in the study of texts in the Qur'an and Hadith, figures and thoughts, history and repertoire, classical and contemporary literature as well as socio-cultural studies. All concentrations are in the context of Indonesia and other countries in Southeast Asia within the framework of unified NKRI, based on Pancasila.

Musāwa Journal has been published by PSW UIN Sunan Kalijaga Yogyakarta since 2002. Initiated by lecturers, gender activists and Islamic studies scholars of PTKI (Higher Education of Islamic Religion) Musāwa has regularly published academic works and researches on gender and Islam for almost two decades. Now, the Journal extends its studies with Children and Human Rights (HAM). All studies are still in the context of gender and its mainstreaming. Through the studies hopefully, the Musawa journal can be part of the implementation of gender mainstreaming in the context of Indonesian society.

Musāwa Journal of Gender and Islamic Studies is to be indexed by a powerful resource platform for discovery of scholarly publications in Indonesia (GARUDA) and accredited by National Journal Accreditation (ARJUNA) Managed by the Ministry of Research, Technology, and Higher Education, Republic Indonesia with (SINTA 2). Musāwa Journal of Gender and Islamic Studies is to be indexed by the Ministry of Religious Affairs' Reference (MORAREF) in an academic portal under the Ministry of Religious Affairs of Indonesia.

3. Jurnal Psikologi Integratif

Description

Jurnal Psikologi Integratif (JPI) is a scientific journal and intended to the national and international scholarly community. It is dedicated to the advancement of integrative knowledge in psychological research and studies.

JPI covers such topics as Islamic Psychology, Integrative and Holistic Psychotherapy, Religion and Global Health, Psychology of Spirituality, Multicultural Mental Health, Community Psychology and any other related integrative themes. A special focus will be given to the integration of perspectives on psychology, spirituality, and Islam with interdisciplinary approaches. JPI also seeks to unite general basic psychology, other alternative and complementary approaches. JPI contains articles pertaining to theoretical integration of ideas, epistemology of integrative psychological sciences, and original empirical research articles of general scientific value. JPI has the goal of integrating knowledge of psychology, Islamic perspective, and/ other related disciplines with interdisciplinary approaches into a new synthesis of integrative science—overcoming the post-modernist fragmentation of ideas of recent decades.

Jurnal Psikologi Integratif is published by Psychology Department, Faculty of Social & Humanity Sciences, UIN Sunan Kalijaga Yogyakarta. JPI wants to bring affirmation of theories that are presented in the study of Integrative Psychological Science, in order to generate the faith trusted by the society, particularly for the academics, professional practitioners and the authors itself to develop the integrative psychological theories.

Jurnal Psikologi Integratif is published biannually in April and October. It contains the writings that summarized the results of research and conceptual thinking in the field of Integrative Psychology. The General Director of Research and Development, Ministry of Research, Technology and Higher Education Republic of Indonesia has accredited Jurnal Psikologi Integratif for 2018-2022 (SK Kemenristekdikti No. 28/ E/KPT/2019). Al-Ahwal: Jurnal Hukum Keluarga Islam (P-ISSN: 2085-627X, E-ISSN: 2528-6617) is published twice a year (June and December) by Al-Ahwal Research Centre of the Department of Islamic Family Law, Faculty of Sharia and Law, Universitas Islam Negeri Sunan Kalijaga Yogyakarta since 2008. Al-Ahwal always places Islamic Family Law, Gender Discourse, and Islamic Civil Law in the central focus of academic inquiry. Until now, with the fair procedure of double peer-review, Al-Ahwal consistently publishes researches/studies concerned with those fields under various dimensions and approaches. The subject covers textual and fieldwork studies with multi perspectives.

In the beginning, the journal only served as a scholarly forum for the lecturers, professors, and students at the State Institute of Islamic Studies. However, due to the later development, the journal has successfully invited scholars and researchers outside the Institute to contribute. Al-Ahwal is a member of Crossref, so all its article have their unique DOI number. Al-Ahwal has been "Accredited" based on the Decree of the Director General of Higher Education, Ministry of National Education of the Republic of Indonesia.
